ST. JOE LEAD FEATURE OF THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET. FIFTEEN HUNDRED SHARES SELL AT $18.

Tractions and Bank Issues Continue Active and in Good Demand-Bonds Neglected.

St. Joseph Lead was the feature of the trading in yesterday's session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange. The recent high prices of lead and reports of consolidation of the great American lead interests, have put renewed activity in Missouri lead properties. A lot of 1899 shares of St. Joe Lead was taken at Es. which was steady with the last official transaction. Banking issues were again active and in fair demand, with prices generally about steady. National Bank of Commerce and State National was steady, respectively. Third National was steady, sales being made at $22.59.

Tractions were quite active in good demand. Sales in that list were 250 United Rullways preferred at $4; 65 common at $4, and 125 common at $4.25. American Insurance sold $2 higher at $23.

SPECULATION HALTED BY NARROWING OF RESOURCES. GENERAL REVULSION FROM VOLATILE RISE.

Holders of Standard Securities Show General Relief at Check in Extravagant Rise.

New York, Nov. 29.—The pace of specula-tion was haited in to-day's stock market partially as a general revulsion from the volatile rise of the last few days in special stocks, and partially from a narrowing of the resources of the money market, which exercised some constraint on speculative activity.

exercised some constraint on speculative activity.

The effect of the excessive buoyancy was most pronounced in the Southern iron group and some other metalindustrials. The railroad list moved but garrowity, and was as slightly affected compared with the violent reactions in the industrials as it had been for several days past by their attentions.

SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS

Wheat was sharply higher in yesterday's local grain market, and here, as else where in this country, the sentiment appeared quite strongly buillish. The advance was due to sundry causes, among which were higher cables, heavy receipts, reports of unfavorable weather in Argentina, a good general cash demand and unfavorable advices on the Russian political situation. The trading here and in other domestic markets was brisker than has been the case for several days. Brokers seemed to have buying orders in goodly numbers, which indicated a picking up in the outside interest. Local receipts were about twice those of the corresponding day last year, but still only moderate. The cash side of the market showed decided improvement, offerings being readily taken and at firm prices. Millers here report that the flour business is in a healthy condition. Another bullish factor was the report that the big bull interest In Chicago was quietly buying wheat. Rains were reported in Argentica, where hatvesting is in progress. This news was in a measure for the strength in Liverpool and other European markets. Those markets were also affected by our strength on Tuesday. Weather in the wheat belt is very cold, with indications for a further drop in temperature. This has caused some apprehension in certain sections as to the effect of zero weather on the young wheat plant which is without snow covering.
